

CAGS Press Release: Croydon Library's gay section expanded

21 January 2010

The Deputy Mayor of Croydon, Cllr Russell Jackson, will open the updated LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender) section of Croydon Library on Saturday 6th February. At 12:30pm the Deputy Mayor will visit the LGBT book section on the first floor of the Central Library, Katharine Street, Croydon. He will be greeted by Andrea Hurren, Customer Services Manager for Croydon Library, who will introduce him to the Library staff and to members of Croydon Area Gay Society who have been involved with updating this facility. He will then be invited to "Cut the Rainbow Ribbon" to denote the completion of the updating process.

This event is part of Croydon's LGBT History Month programme, and has been organised by CAGS (Croydon Area Gay Society – www.cags.org.uk). For a full list of Croydon LGBT History Month events see www.lgbtcroydon.org.uk/historymonth. Croydon's LGBT History Month events are co-ordinated by Crocus (Croydon's LGBT Network – www.croydoncrocus.org.uk).
